Tuned ½ step down

Verse

          (F#)     (C#)     (B)
          |G        D         |C                  |
       It's easier not to be wise
       G                    D                   C
and measure these things by your brains
  G             D              C
I sank into Eden with you
G                D                   C
alone in the church by and by
      G               D                    C
I'll read to you here, save your eyes
         G                       D           C
You'll need them, your boat is at sea
        G           D                    C
your anchor is up, you've been swept away
           G                D                   C
and the greatest of teachers won't hesitate
